Since 1958, Upper Bucks Regional EMS (UBREMS), a registered 501(c)(3) has provided advanced life support services to nine municipalities in Northern Bucks County and surrounding communities. This is a corps of paid paramedics and EMT's, guided by a volunteer Board of Directors. We remain steadfast in our Mission—triaging and transporting patients, saving lives, and delivering skilled emergency care from two strategically located stations.

Our crews tackle many unique challenges, including creek crossings without bridges, limited home access, and complex rescues. Whether reaching rock climbers at High Rocks, assisting injured hikers in state game lands, or performing water rescues on the Delaware River, UBREMS staff are always prepared for the unexpected.

In recent years, however, rising costs and stagnant revenue have strained our operations. Stressed by a high rate of unpaid services, policies that offer direct insurance payments to individuals, and payments that average only 30% of the per-call expense rate. Despite efforts to increase funding—advocating for higher municipal contributions from general funds, these financial challenges persist, impacting both our organization and community safety.

To address these realities, we will maintain 24/7 service at the Springfield Station 141 and temporarily transition our Nockamixon Station 142 to 12-hour coverage for the immediate future. We are examining ways to expand this and have the goal of restoring service 24 hours and day, seven days a week 365 days a year, from both stations. This strategic adjustment aligns our resources with a majority of the demand of the community, during the newly defined coverage hours. By taking this step, we continue to deliver high-quality service, sustain our role as a trusted lifeline, and ensure services while we build greater financial sustainability within the institution.

Without UBREMS, emergency response times could rise an additional 20-40 minutes—an unacceptable risk for our community. Our goal is to increase community awareness of the operational and financial dependency of local EMS organizations, expand community awareness and support of our organization, increase residential subscriptions to establish additional sustainable income, and collect on a larger percentage of service fees year over year. To ensure long term sustainability and viability of EMS services in Upper Bucks County ongoing municipal contributions, equitably shared among all municipalities, is required.

Our commitment to Upper Bucks County is unwavering, but we need your support. Please consider a donation or subscribing to our service, which reduces transport expenses for you and your family. Scan the QR codes provided to learn more, subscribe or donate.
